Pick a Dance Video that Matches Your Style

Fast or Slow, Classy or Unexpected

One of your first decisions about your wedding dance is what kind of personality you want to show. Your first dance is a mini performance, and you need to approach it that way. Is it a drama or comedy? A romance or a period piece? From there, find a dance video that portrays that mood and emotion, taking into consideration the speed of your song and also the size of the dance floor.

Tip #1

Don't Sit & Watch. Get Up & Move.

Try the Steps along with the Video

Once you have picked a YouTube dance video to learn from, create a practice space where you can watch the video and try the steps at the same time. You don't need much room. Learning to dance is about moving and trial and error. If you try to watch first and then practice, you'll have trouble remembering which foot to start with and what step comes next. Trust me, I've been there!*

Tip #2

Utilize the Speed Control setting on YouTube

Slow it waaaay down if you need.

The speed control setting on YouTube is a dancer's best friend. You can slow the video down and watch in slow motion if you feel like the steps and sequences are going too fast. You can change the playback speed of any YouTube video in the lower right corner settings control of the YouTube player. It's the icon that looks like a cog.

Often you will end up loving the new things you try and even if you don't love it, you've given yourself a new experience. ”

Always KISS | Keep it Simple (Stupid)

Keep your expectations in check.

There are some beautiful and amazing wedding dance instructional videos on YouTube. Keep in mind that these are professional dancers, and they're paid to make it look easy. Start with simple dance steps, and once you've mastered the basics, then try to add an extra turn or spin. A few dance steps done well always looks better than a bunch of steps executed poorly.

Tip #4

Substitute/modify steps & routines.

If it's not working for you, change it.

Online wedding dance videos are a one-size-fits-all. They are not taking into account the size of your dance floor, the speed of your music, or your fiance's shoulder problem. So if you run into a dance step or part of routine that doesn't work, it's not set in stone. You can change or modify it to fit your situation. shhh, no one will ever know!*

Tip #5

Watch the Video, then Watch it Again.

And again and again and again.

One of the best part about wedding dance videos, is that they are there when you need them. It's not a one and done. So practice along with the instructional video, practice without, and then practice along with it to make sure you're matching the steps. And if you miss something, you can go over and over the same bit until you get it right.
